Fluence Retains Tier 1 Energy Storage Supplier Status in S&P Global Energy 2026 Cleantech List

July 15, 2026

Consecutive-year recognition on elite cleantech list highlights Fluence's strong market presence, bankability, and manufacturing excellence

ARLINGTON, Va., July 15, 2026 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Fluence Energy, Inc. ("Fluence") (NASDAQ: FLNC), a global market leader delivering intelligent energy storage systems, services, and asset optimization software, today announced it has retained Tier 1 energy storage supplier status in the S&P Global Energy 2026 List of Tier 1 Cleantech Companies. Fluence has achieved this designation every year since the list's inception in 2025.

To earn a Tier 1 ranking, companies must demonstrate exceptional performance across operational and sustainability practices, and financial resilience. This annual tiering system offers transparency and confidence to hyperscalers, developers, offtakers, and financial institutions seeking highly reliable and bankable cleantech partners.

"Being recognized by S&P Global Energy as a Tier 1 storage supplier for the second year running is a powerful validation of our continued market leadership and robust financial foundation," said Julian Nebreda, President and Chief Executive Officer, Fluence. "This distinction reinforces the trust our customers and partners place in our operational excellence and our relentless drive to deliver scalable energy storage solutions. It is a testament to the hard work of our global team as we help transform the way we power our world."

As grids evolve, energy storage has become a critical enabler of flexibility, allowing operators to dynamically balance supply and demand. Fluence is committed to delivering enduring value and minimizing risk for its customers through advanced battery energy storage system solutions, proven safety leadership, and dedicated, long-term partnerships. By providing robust technology combined with comprehensive services and advanced software, Fluence helps asset owners maximize the reliability, performance, and financial returns of their energy storage investments over the long term.
